

HAVE PROMISES BEEN KEPT?

The 1948 Genocide Convention, condemned genocide globally. The ICJ's extraterritorial scope oversees cases such as the Rohingya genocide and the 2022 Russian-Ukraine invasion.

Since 1948, the UDHR has championed universal fundamental rights for peace and freedom. Sadly, in the past 75 years, 18 genocides have occurred globally, underscoring ongoing challenges.

In 1953, the ECHR began providing regional protection and empowers citizens to approach international courts. While cases are heard, a backlog of unseen cases grows.
